

Martins Farm, Shepherds Road, Bartley, Hampshire SO40

Martins Farm is not your typical thatched cottage.... there are no low ceilings or cut corners here. This home has benefitted from a luxury make over by its current owners as well as being situated within the notoriously elegant New Forest National Park. An equestrian dream, surrounded by approximately five acres of beautiful paddocks and formal gardens. This Grade II listed forest cottage, which dates back all the way to the 16th Century is now looking for its next custodian.
